

Forced Emigration.

Lord Carlisle, President of the Council and Minister of Agriculture, replying in the English House of Lords Wednesday, to Lord Dunraven's remarks regarding the condition of the people in Ireland, said accounts from distressed districts had been decidedly more encouraging during the last few weeks. He said the Government were agreed that emigration was the best and inevitable remedy for the distress, but they have no rights nor was it necessary to force it back on the people. The Government had received a hopeful offer for the removal of a number of selected families across the Atlantic. In consequence of this statement the motion of Lord Dunraven for the adoption of a scheme of emigration was withdrawn. These people are to be landed in New York without a dollar in the world. Provided by the English Government with a cheap emigrant ticket they are exiled from their native homes and are cast helplessly upon the charities of strangers in a strange land. Persons, perhaps of a turbulent disposition reckless and ignorant, they have no respect for law at home, and being undesirable citizens of the English Government they are exported to America to become "good citizens" of a free and enlightened Republic.

A few newspapers in the United States have taken objections to Minister Lowell's employment of the phrase, in the course of a dinner table speech in England, that "no American, any more than an Englishman, believes that assassination is war, or that dynamite is the raw material of policy." Any journal which objects to that expression is a poor specimen of the American press, and would probably be equally ready to find fault with President Arthur for not responding to O'Donovan Rossa's appeal to make a contribution to the Dynamite Fund.

John H. Parnell, a brother of the famous Irish leader of that name, owns one of the largest peach farms in the world. It is situated about six miles below West Point, Ga. There are 125,000 peach trees on it, besides a large number of other kinds of fruit trees. They cover over 700 acres. Mr. Parnell has planted 500 acres of young trees this year. He reports his business as a paying one. He does not go much on his brother's communistic ideas.

O'Donovan Rossa and his gang have been given the cold shoulder at the Irish National Convention at Philadelphia. This body is composed of representative Irish-Americans from all parts in the United States, and its action in ignoring the violent utterances of these irrepressible Fenians will do much toward removing the impression prevalent in England that the dynamite plotters draw their inspiration and funds from the Land Leaguers of America.

Somehow American exports do not seem to meet with much favor in Europe. For a long time Germany has waged a war on our hogs, claiming that it was full of trachina, and therefore dangerous to the digestive organs of the Germans. Now Sweden has opened a crusade against our potatoes. Why, is not yet set forth, but the objection has been raised and it is therefore likely that the export will soon be an outcast from good Swedish society.

Senator Edmunds says he is not a candidate for President and refuses to consider the possibility of his nomination. Still, if the nomination should be thrust upon Mr. Edmunds, he might be trusted, as a good party man, to endorse it and support the ticket. The Vermont Senator has never yet bolted from the party and we do not believe he would do it even on this provocation.

The Chinese proprietor, editor and reporter of the Chinese newspaper, Hong Hong, was arrested one night last week in a lottery den in San Francisco. He claimed immunity from arrest, as he was in the discharge of his duties, and that the Supreme Court had decided that reporters could go anywhere in pursuit of information. His claim was admitted.

Hon. Phil R. Thompson, Jr., member of Congress from the Eighth District of Kentucky, shot and killed Walter Davies at Harroburg Junction yesterday. The trouble grew out of family troubles, and the supposed undue intimacy of Davies with Thompson's wife.

Michael Fagan, tried in Dublin for the murder of Burke, one of the Phoenix Park victims, was convicted yesterday of murder, and sentenced to be hanged May 28th. He protested his innocence of the crime, but declared that he was a Fenian, and would die one.

Explanation.

This item appeared in the Boston Transcript: "A $1,000 cow, with a pedigree as long as that of an Italian count, inclosed in a water-tight bag and attached to the forehead just below the horns, was a passenger on a steamer to New York this week."

Some people might be misled by it. They might think that the pedigree was inclosed in the bag and attached to the count's forehead, just below the horns; others might construe it to mean that the count was inclosed in the bag and attached to the forehead of the pedigree. All this is wrong. The idea is this: The cow had a pedigree as long as that of an Italian count. Inclosed in a water-tight bag and attached to the forehead (probably the cow's forehead), just below the horns, was a passenger. Must have been a mighty comfortable position for him, too.

The Right to Work a Mine.

Judge Sawyer of California recently rendered an important decision in the case of the Pacific Coast Mining Company vs. James Spargo et al., and the same company against L. Fisk et al. The plaintiff had purchased certain land in Nevada county from the Government, and had located a lode of ore. The defendants, in both cases, had subsequently located gold lodes and begun working them from points outside the boundaries of the land, and followed up, tunneling under the plaintiff's land, which they endeavored to claim by right of their lode location. The Court held that the provisions of the law were overstepped, and that the plaintiff is alone entitled to the working of the mines located on the land.

Mad, Madder, Maddest.

The Reveille man is disgusted, but his case is only a fair illustration of the uncertainty of all worldly fame. He says:

"Last Winter, when the Legislature was in session, the Reveille published some facts and figures about how much it cost to run the State Government, and showed by conclusive proof that it cost $4.30 per year for every man, woman, child, Indian and Chinaman to do it. That item has been running the rounds of the press ever since, but is now a sadly distorted piece of news. An Eastern paper comes to hand with the remarkable statement that the Reveille says it 'costs $7.43 per human to run Banner county.' Such is fame. It almost equals being killed on the battlefield and having your name spelled wrong. After all the figuring we did, to have it thus reported!

Priestly Arrogance.

A sensation has been caused in Rochester, N. Y., by the arrest of the wife and daughter of a dying man by a Catholic priest, who had the door slammed in his face when he called to administer the sacrament. The priest attempted to force his way where he was not wanted, even by the express wish of the dying man, and it was not until the Magistrate sent a committee of prominent men, including the family physician, to ascertain the desire of the sick man, who informed them that he wanted the priest to keep away from him, that the case was dismissed.

Old Ben. Looming Up.

Old Ben. Butler is looming up as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency. Several Democrats tried to throw him overboard when he first aspired to the gubernatorial nomination in Massachusetts, but finally accepted him as their most available candidate. They may come to the same conclusion in the next Democratic National Convention, in order to secure his influence in certain States. Politics make strange bed-fellows, and the Democrats may take Benjamin, and those silver spoons, as their forlorn hope.

Vox Populi Vox Dei.

The maxim that "The voice of the people is the voice of God," was very poorly illustrated in Milwaukee last week. When the man Scheller was arrested in Milwaukee, on suspicion of setting fire to the Newell House, many persons urged seizing and lynching him. He was tried for the crime before a jury of his countrymen and acquitted. The verdict was received by the plaudits of the spectators in court, and the released prisoner hailed on the outside with spontaneous demonstrations of joy.

Encouraging.

O'Donovan Rossa says Herr Most is a little Dutch coward who would not dare kill a mosquito, and Herr Most says O'Donovan Rossa is an Irish blatherer who would run from anything that did not look like whisky. Rossa has started for Philadelphia to kill Most and it is reported that Most has started for New York to kill Rossa. Further particulars will be awaited with interest.

During this month, April, there have been forty persons sent to the Napa Insane Asylum from San Francisco. The most of them were of foreign birth, and several recently arrived immigrants.

The people of San Francisco are discussing the propriety of lighting the streets of that city with the electric light. A proposition to do so has been made by the Brush Electric Company which may be accepted.

The New York Sun strongly advocates the nomination of Tilden by the Democrats in 1884. The well-known confidential relations between Dana and Tilden leads to the belief that Tilden has decided to be an active candidate.

Prof. Boggs, the State Inspector of bugs and fruit-tree pests, of California has resigned. He could not tell a bug from a reptile, and would not stand the unmerciful galling that he was receiving from the papers for the $150 per month salary.

The National Reistung at Berlin declares that it is impossible for England to accede to any further demands of Parnell. In regard to the condition of Ireland, it declares that honor demands the unequivocal disavowal of Parnell of the dynamite policy of the Irish extremists.

A new palace has been built for the Prince of Wales and fitted up with great magnificence. Among the apartments are a saloon and a study. We can understand why the Prince prefers to travel on a car containing a saloon, but pray, what does he want of a study.

Ingersoll is doing what he can to repopularize the pagan custom of secular orations at funerals. His latest effort was at the funeral of John G. Mills, in Washington City, in which he said: "This chaos called the world has never been explained. The golden bridge of life from gloom emerges and on shadow rests."

The last Congress failed to make an appropriation for the redemption of mutilated greenbacks, and as a consequence defective currency cannot be called in until the next Congress provides for it. This is an important item in the finances of our country, but the last Congress got into such a snarl over a Southern contested seat that many important items were not attended to, this one among others.

The appointment of a Chinese Deputy Sheriff in New York several months ago was hailed by the Eastern sentimentalists as a laudable act of justice to the Mongolian race. It now turns out that the enterprising alien has not found his official duties so pressing as to prevent him from managing an opium den and lottery game in direct defiance of the law he swore to enforce. He has been dismissed by the Sheriff in disgrace, and it now remains to be seen what apology the pro-Chinese press will make for his misconduct.

Cruelty to Animals.

The Red Bluff Cause advocates keeping prisoners, who are arrested for petty offenses, on bread and water while in the lock-up, and putting them at work in the streets with better food.

That would be an insult to the army of beggarly tramps, who manage to get in jail for a few days, in order to get well filled up. It would be cruelty to animals, which is against the law.

Mrs. Jane Blair, of Portland, Me., gave birth a few days ago to triplets—two boys and a girl. Their weights were six, five and a half and four pounds respectively. The mother is but eighteen years of age. The father is fifty-six. Lord! What would have been the result had the parents been older?

Leprosy in America.

A dispatch, from New York says: Several cases of leprosy have been discovered in this city, and in the opinion of medical authorities that disease is increasing in the United States. It is reported to come from different countries. Two cases are in Blackwell's Island Hospital. A physician there informed a San reporter that leprosy is increasing at such a rate in the United States that the time is not far distant when lepers will be confined in some isolated place. Among the secluded cases now in the city is an American, who contracted the disease in Honolulu and came to Philadelphia for treatment. Dr. Pafford, a specialist in dermatology, was asked: "Have you met with any cases of leprosy among the Chinese?" He said, "It is very difficult to detect. There have been two or three cases treated, but I believe they secrete their sick. I am unaware of any way of finding them."

Dr. Sturges of West Thirty-second street said: "I cannot give an accurate guess at the number of lepers in this State or vicinity. But I know there are too many. I can now recall about eight or nine cases. About thirty cases have come under the observation of the Dermatological Society of this city within the last eight years. Not long since a leper who escaped from the leper colony at Molokai, in the Sandwich Islands, made his way to Salem, Mass. He was recently in the Workhouse there. The authorities made efforts to get him into our Charity Hospital, but our Commissioners had lepers enough. He died the other day."

Overdoing the Thing.

Party majorities may sometimes become dangerously large. In some States where political sentiment is very one-sided, the majority may go on electing its ticket, year after year, until it looks hopeless for the other party to try to lift its head, when suddenly there comes a break—at the time it is least expected—the apparently invincible majority is overturned, and then it is discovered that the foundation had been imperceptibly crumbling for years. Michigan is a lately impregnable Republican stronghold that has been converted into at least a doubtful State, while, on the other hand, several of the Democratic States of the South seem to be on the point of falling out of line. Virginia, North Carolina and Texas exhibited great changes at the late election, and now there is mutiny even in old Kentucky. It takes the form of a call for an independent Convention, to form a party to rescue the State from the condition into which it has been brought by corrupt and inefficient partisan government.

Not Attainable.

The Appellate Court at Chicago decided Tuesday that the certificate of membership in the Chicago Board of Trade cannot be taken possession of by attachment.

The Rochester Post-Express says ex-Secretary Everts has thirteen daughters. It is reported that he never locks the front door Sunday nights until after twelve o'clock, and even then he lies awake an hour worrying for fear there may be a stray couple in the dining-room, which he has overlooked.

The best known remedy for coughs and colds is the Infallible Cough Mixture prepared by Osburn & Shoemaker.

LOG ROLLING.

While Wrestling with a Fallen Tree a Lumberman Receives Consequential Damages.

While on a hunting excursion in the great coal and wood region near Carbondale, Pa., the writer met William Coll, a lumberman. Accustomed to life and labor in the forest from early manhood, he was a true Knight of the Axe. Many a tree had fallen before his ringing strokes, and fleets of rafts had borne away to market the sawed products. Coll is a character and if Oscar Wilde is right in saying that all movements in unbridled labor are graceful, our friend William, stripped for his work, and attacking a tree as Richard I. assaulted the heavy doors of Front de la Tour's Castle, must have presented an admirable picture.

One day, however—let him tell the story himself, as he told it to me. "I was out in the woods, you know, trying to start a log down hill. Thinking I could get a better purchase on it from the lower side, I tackled it there with my log-rolling hook and threw my weight on the lever. She started, she did, but as luck would have it, before I could get out of the way, she rolled right over me. If it hadn't been for a lot of small limbs and brush lying in the road, which lifted her up, she'd have crushed me flat. As it was I got up without a broken bone, but with some mighty bad bruises."

"Then you were all right," said his auditor. "Not by a blamed sight stranger. I took cold, rheumatism set in, and, if I hadn't heard of BENSON'S CAPSICINE POROUS PLASTERS and used 'em, it's my opinion I should never have made another chip fly. But the Capsicene took hold quick, and I'm 'bout as good as new. But there's one thing you can calculate on—I shall never wrestle with another log unless I have the advantage of the ground. For, as I told you before, it it hadn't been for them bushes I'd been smashed so you could 'a sold me for a door mat."

The Capsicene is the thing for rheumatism. It doesn't keep you waiting. The word CAPSICINE is cut in the center of the genuine. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.

BREVITIES

Governor Adams is again able to be out.

Tom Tennant is the present acting Deputy Secretary of State.

The beautiful month of May with its flowers and balmy days will soon be here.

The horse of Johnson, the Drayman, in its cavorting around town, Friday, in its runaway career was quite badly injured.

There will be a baseball game to-day between a Carson and Virginia club at Treadway's Park, Carson. A close contest is expected.

The case of the State of Nevada vs. Crockett and Kinkadee is set for trial May 14th, instead of May 24th, as the Journal by mistake published it.

Ex-Governor George L. Woods is lecturing on the question, "Shall Immigration be restricted?" He seems to think it should not be restricted.

The Carson Index says that the scarlet fever has undoubtedly run its course for the present in Carson. No new cases have been reported for some time.

We would like to inform the people of Reno, and desire them to bear it in mind, that there will be divine service at all of the various Churches in town to-day.

We notice a large quantity of hay coming into town now-a-days. Large loads of baled as well as loose hay can be seen passing along the various streets at almost any hour of the day.

John W. Muddrill, ex-State Printer and formerly foreman in the Journal office, was made the happy dad of a fine daughter, at Austin, on the 25th inst. "He drew to a King and Jack and got the Queen."

Services in the Baptist Church at 11 o'clock A. M. by the pastor Rev. E. B. Hatch. Praise services in the evening until 7:45. Morning subject, "Anniversary Address." Evening, "The Test of Truth." Seats free, and all made welcome.

Senator Pete Marker passed a very restless day Friday. His arm is badly sloughing from the elbow down to the hand; and he was in great pain and could obtain no rest. The doctor finally injected morphine into his arm, and that seemed to ease him somewhat.

What is Reputation?

Jim Townsend, of the Gazette is coast-wide noted for his unenviable reputation for "truth and voracity." He is well deserving of the "epitaph." Yesterday, as the JOURNAL reporter was cavorting around town trying to pick up a lot of items, he ran afoul of the afore-said "voracious Jim," and casually remarked to him that it was a terrible dull town to find locals in. "Why, man," replied Jim, "it is the best place outside of Mill Creek, to hunt for locals I ever was in." The JOURNAL reporter was about to call him a confounded no-such-a-thing, when he chanced to notice that Jim's language might be considered ambiguous, and replied, "Ya-as, a d—n fine place to hunt for locals, but do you ever find any?" "Not a devilish one," retorted Jim, "let's go and cool our hot cop-pers." The JOURNAL reporter—refused.

Special Revival Services.

Rev. G. W. De La Maty, the Pastor of the Methodist Church at Reno, is preaching each night at the Methodist Church in Carson. Mr. De La Maty is a forcible and pleasing speaker, and his sermons contain much food for thought. The altar services are in charge of Rev. F. M. Willis. A number of people have become much interested in the matter of a religious life. We regret to hear that Rev. Mr. Gray's health is such that he can only be present at a part of the meetings. So says the Carson Index.

A Sudden Change of Heart.

Two boys engaged in an angry fight on the street in Reno, yesterday, when changing to look up they beheld the Deputy Sheriff standing off a short distance looking at them. They at once ceased their cursing and hair-pulling, and went to hugging each other in the most endearing manner, as though they had been shaming all the time. Circumstances alter cases, sometimes.

Sleighing in April.

Snow fell to the depth of nine inches at Tuscarora, Nevada, last Tuesday night, (April 24-25) and the people of the place took advantage of it and the merry sleigh bells and cow bells were jangling through the streets all day long on Wednesday last.

A splendid stock of fresh garden, field and flower seeds just received at Osburn & Shoemaker's.

An Old Fraud.

The Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., at Independence, Cal., have given public warning to all Masons and others against a fraud, calling himself Hall, R. W. Ford and many other aliases, who is roaming over the country and asking aid from Masons. He claims to be a member of Inyo Lodge, but is not. He is bright in the work of Masonry, and being of good address is liable to deceive anyone. In an official letter from the W. M. of Inyo Lodge, sent to every Grand Lodge on the continent, the W. M. says:

"This man is a bilk and a scoundrel, and should be arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. He is about sixty years of age; has gray hair, and limps a little.

Please notify your subordinate Lodges, that they may not be imposed upon by this rascal.

A. C. CONKLIN, W. M."

A Pancake Anniversary.

The annual celebration of the Reno Pan-cake Club was duly celebrated yesterday. The order extends over the whole of California and Nevada. Early yesterday morning Tom Hymers' four-in-hand left town for Virginia City loaded down with the beauty and bon-ton of Reno, whither they went to attend the session of the Grand Lodge of the order, held there this year. The chief object of the association is to acquire the skill of flipping a flap-jack without spluttering it all over the stove, nor missing a lick. The one who shows the greatest proficiency in the art draws the first prize at the Grand Lodge, and is awarded a husband by the lodge within the present year, to be furnished by the order or a forfeiture of $1,000, to be paid by the Grand Lodge at the end of the stipulated time. We'll bet Reno gets away with the cake.

Set Fire to a Car.

From the Winnemucca Silver State of Thursday we gather the following: Yesterday morning some tramps sought shelter in one of the number of empty box cars which were side-tracked near the cattle corral. As it was raining, they concluded to make themselves as comfortable as circumstances would permit, so they built a fire in the car. The blaze reached the roof and set it on fire, and the tramps decamped without making an effort to put it out. John Miller, car inspector, noticed the smoke issuing from the burning car, and gave the alarm, and the yardmen put out the fire. The roof of the car was burned so that it will have to be replaced by a new one.

Utilizing a Hand Car.

The Silver State says: A party of tramps took a hand car from a section house near Coin, between Iron Point and Battle Mountain, a few nights ago and rode on it until they saw a freight train approaching, when they put on brakes, stopped the car jumped off, and left it on the track. The freight train ran into and demolished the hand car, but fortunately was not thrown off the track. It would not be healthy for the tramps to have the engineer and fireman of that train catch them.

The Toy Pistol.

The Carson Index of yesterday gives the following regarding the use of the toy pistol in Carson:

Yesterday the oldest son of Mr. J. H. McCormick took aim at the next to the youngest child and fired a little bullet into its head just back of the ear. The ball happily did not penetrate the skull and was extracted. The child will, in all probability, recover. The boy procured the pistol, or rather it was given to him, out in the country a short distance from Carson and his first use of it on returning home was as above. It is not to be supposed that the little fellow realized what he was doing, but the danger from the toy pistol is only the more apparent.

In the cure of severe coughs, weak lungs, spitting of blood, and the early stages of consumption, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has astonished the medical faculty. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By druggists.
